I moved to Didsbury in 1982 when my work as a venture capitalist brought me to Manchester. The job allowed plenty of scope to play a part in the civic life of the city. Of relevance to the Didsbury Arts Festival is Director of the Royal Exchange Theatre and previously on the Committee of the Whitworth Art Gallery. I have served on the Council of Manchester University and remain an Honorary Research Fellow at Manchester Business School. I have also been a non-executive director at Wythenshawe Hospital.

I studied at Oxford University and have an MBA from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.
