

TRANSIENT ROOTS

POETRY TRAIL
BY LOUISE WALLEIN

Transient Roots is a new cycle of poetry written by Louise Wallwein, honoring the houses that were once her homes and places that were once her playground. Use this map to follow the trail, listen to the poetry and reflect on the care experience and history, whilst taking a journey into the artist's childhood.

At each location you will find a plaque on a lamppost, railing or tree. Scan the code with your phone to take you to a web page where you can read or listen to the poem inspired by the location and events that took place there.

There are plenty of QR Code Readers Scanners you can download for free for your mobile device. Search the App store, Google play, or Windows store.

- Didsbury Library
1979-1986
- The Clock
1979-1986
- 390 Parrs Wood Road
April 1969-August 1999
- Corner of Ruabon Road
1983
- 58 Parrs Wood Avenue
October 1985 - February 1986
- Wingate Drive
1979-1982
- Didsbury Park Shelter
1979-1986

